

Great Removal Piano and Organ Sale

Of THE WILEY B. ALLEN COMPANY Will Soon Close

ONLY ONE WEEK MORE

THE REMAINING handsome new and used pianos, piano-players, organs, auto-pianos and electric self-playing pianos that we have been offering at our removal sale at such ridiculously low prices must go during the next few days.

There are about thirty instruments altogether, but they are some of the finest and most attractive styles.

The sale has reached the $20,000 mark now, and to say that we thank the purchasing public for the splendid patronage and the confidence reposed in our house, and in our announcements of this great sale, does not begin to express our full appreciation for the business done during the past three weeks exceeds by far our most sanguine expectation.

Every one of the remaining new pianos, also several used ones, can be had here now at the greatest sacrifice in prices ever offered by any responsible firm, and you can virtually take your own time in paying for them.

See the choice, new, highest grade Cabinet Grand Upright Piano in our east window for $225. Such a one can not be obtained elsewhere for less than double the price we are asking for it. $10 down and $8 a month secures it.

Alongside of it stands a beautiful mahogany cased standard grade upright marked $225. $10 down and $6 a month buys it. Where can you secure a duplicate of this for less than $400.

Second and Last List of Slightly Used Pianos Placed on Our Floor This Morning

When our MONSTER SALE started we had nearly fifty second hand and slightly used pianos to sell. We placed three-fourths of them on the floor at that time. Yesterday we closed out the last one of the first lot. This morning we are placing the balance, being the last of our slightly used pianos, on the floor, marked down lower than ever. Some of this last lot is absolutely as good as new, and comprise the very best makes, such as Chickering & Sons, J. & C. Fischer, Decker Bros., Everett Smith & Barnes, and other good makes. They will be sold at the following prices and terms:

One piano at $100.....	$10.00 down and $5.00 per month
One piano at $125.....	$10.00 down and $5.00 per month
Two pianos at $135 each.....	$10.00 down and $5.00 per month
Two pianos at $150 each.....	$10.00 down and $5.00 per month
One piano at $165.....	$10.00 down and $5.00 per month
Two pianos at $175 each.....	$10.00 down and $5.00 per month
One piano at $200.....	$10.00 down and $5.00 per month
Two pianos at $225 each.....	$10.00 down and $5.00 per month
Two pianos at $250 each.....	$10.00 down and $5.00 per month

We have a very limited number of these pianos. When they are sold we will have no more. Better come in today and secure one. It's like nothing, but you are actually buying, and the piano will soon be yours.

PLEASE OBSERVE: EVERY PIANO WE ARE ADVERTISING IN THIS LIST IS BRAND NEW; NOT ONE OLD-TIME RENTER, OR SECOND-HAND PIANO IN THE LIST. EVERY PIANO IN OUR STORE IS SUBJECT TO ABOVE DISCOUNT. NOTHING RESERVED. COME IN TODAY AND MAKE YOUR SELECTION. PARTIES LIVING OUTSIDE THE CITY CAN BUY, IF LEFT TO US, WITH THE SAME CONFIDENCE AND RECEIVE THE SAME FAIR TREATMENT AS THOUGH THEY WERE HERE TO MAKE THEIR OWN SELECTION. CATALOGUES AND PRICES SENT ON APPLICATION. WE GUARANTEE EVERYTHING. WHATEVER WE SELL MUST BE FOUND EXACTLY AS REPRESENTED. ALL OUR PIANOS SOLD ARE WARRANTED BOTH AS TO QUALITY AND DURABILITY. WE OFFER YOUR MONEY BACK IF PIANOS ARE NOT AS WE REPRESENT THEM TO BE.

DROWNED IN THE VERDE A PHOENIX CITIZEN

William McFarland, a Mining Man, Perished in the Ford Near the Sears Ranch on Friday Morning.

William McFarland, who has lived in and about Phoenix for twenty years, was drowned in the Verde river near the Sears ranch last Friday morning. He had been engaged in mining in the Mazatzals for years and was on his way to his claims with provisions and supplies at the time of the tragedy. He left here on Thursday, accompanied by Mr. Merrill and his two sons. They arrived at the Sears ranch on Thursday night and the next morning they set out to cross the river which had risen in the night and looked threatening.

The Merrills rode together and McFarland was some distance below them. They called to him and told him that he was too far down. He replied that he was on the old ford and was all right. Before they had gone far, Mr. Merrill became aware that a crossing at any point was dangerous and with his sons turned back. Just then McFarland's horse went down, probably having been caught in the quick sand. By this time the Merrills had made their way back to the bank and were not far from McFarland, who after the first floundering of his horse, stood in the rushing water to his middle.

He was in easy speaking distance and did not seem to be distressed. Mr. Merrill asked him if he needed any help. He replied that he did not and instead of starting back toward the Merrills he struck out for the opposite bank. He swam easily and rapidly for awhile and then turning on his back he floated with the current. As he neared the bank he turned over again and began swimming. Then he was heard to scream and went under. He came to the surface again and with one more scream sank and was seen no more. It appeared to the onlookers that when he sank the last time he was almost within the reach of safety.

No search could be made for the body and the Merrills started back to Phoenix, arriving here early yesterday morning.

Mr. McFarland was past sixty years of age. He was the father of Mrs. Frank McClinton of this city.

PREFERS BLACKSMITHING

Roscoe J. Stiles, of Anderson, Ind., at one time president of Green River college, Kentucky, is at present conducting a blacksmith shop in his own home city. He says: "I would rather be a strong, healthy blacksmith than a tired, worn-out college president, with the grave yawning for me." His grandfather, Ezra Stiles, was a president of Yale university, and was one of the most noted scholars of his day.

TEN SINGERS WANTED FOR CHORAL SOCIETY

Good Progress at Rehearsals for the Oratorio to Be Given in April.

The fourth rehearsal of the Phoenix Choral society was held the past week and the results so far accomplished in the study of the oratorio, "The Creation," are very gratifying. In talking with the manager, Mrs. Shirley Christy, it is learned that the chorus numbers ninety persons. It is desired to bring the membership up to 100 active participants, and that the society will be able to give the oratorio in public sometime in April, at the opening of the new School of Music building, now being erected on North Center street.

This society will surely be a most creditable organization for Phoenix and with the excellent musical talent of this city there should be no difficulty in securing a hundred members who would be only too glad to assist in such a festival as is contemplated. The existence of such a society will do much to increase interest in matters musical and those who unite in the presentation of this oratorio will undoubtedly receive personal benefits in a musical way that will well repay them for their efforts.

The demands of the society are very reasonable and amount to little more than an agreement to be prompt at rehearsals and ambitious in the doing of good work, without which requirements no musical effort of such magnitude could be a success.

STEADY HAND. A Surgeon's Hand Should Be the Firmest of All.

"For fifteen years I have suffered from insomnia, indigestion and nervousness as a result of coffee drinking," said a surgeon the other day. "The dyspepsia became so bad that I had to limit myself to one cup at breakfast. Even this caused me to lose my food soon after I ate it. "All the attendant symptoms of indigestion, such as heart burn, palpitation, water brash, wakefulness or disturbed sleep, bad taste in the mouth, nervousness, etc., were present to such a degree as to incapacitate me for my practice as a surgeon.

"The result of leaving off coffee and drinking Postum was simply marvellous. The change was wrought forthwith, my hand steadied and my normal condition of health was restored." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "There's a reason." Read the famous little book, "The Road to Wellbeing," in page.

THE LAW DAY SESSION OF DISTRICT COURT

Disposition Made on Less Final in Several Actions Which Have Been Hanging Fire.

A considerable business of the law day session of the district court yesterday went over for a week. In the case of P. L. Warner against George Sanders and the Angel Consolidated Mining company, garnishee an application for judgment was submitted. A demurrer was overruled. A divorce was granted Peter H. Benson from Mary Francis Benson. In the case of Elsie Scribner and others against W. K. Meade and others an order was made for a copy of the judgment and was ordered sent to Commissioner Philo Wilcox of Cochise county where the action originated.

Judgment was given the plaintiff in the case of the Dorris Heyman Furniture company against W. T. Linville for possession of the property in dispute. The action was begun to recover possession of a lot of furniture which had been sold to a man representing himself to have been authorized to buy it for a mining company operating in the vicinity of Cave Creek. He had no such authorization and did not deliver the property to the mining company but sold it to the defendant at a knock down price and then departed the country.

In the cases of two suits by Olaf Olson against J. Ernest Walker and H. W. Adams, trustee, to quiet title the plaintiff was given judgment. The plaintiff had bought a tract of land from the defendant but the business of executing the deed to it was postponed by Mr. Walker until finally he left this community without having executed it all.

IN SEMINOLE INDIAN WAR.

Madison Horn, a citizen of Watrous, N. M., is believed to be the only man living who took part in the Seminole Indian war in Florida. "Uncle Matt," as he is known, was born in Boone county, Mo., in 1813. He is a fighter by heredity, his grandfather having served in the Revolutionary war under Washington, while his father fought with Harrison in the war of 1812. Besides fighting the Seminoles, Mr. Horn was with Price in the Mexican war.

IN LONGFELLOW'S TIME.

Changes in the Craighouse After it Came into Longfellow's Possession.

After the Craighouse came into Longfellow's possession he made the lower southeast room his study. On the walls hung Clayton portraits of Sumner, Emerson and Hawthorne; his own portrait, painted by his son Ernest, stood on an easel beside the writing table; on the table were the inkstands that belonged to the poets Samuel Taylor Coleridge and Robert Southey.

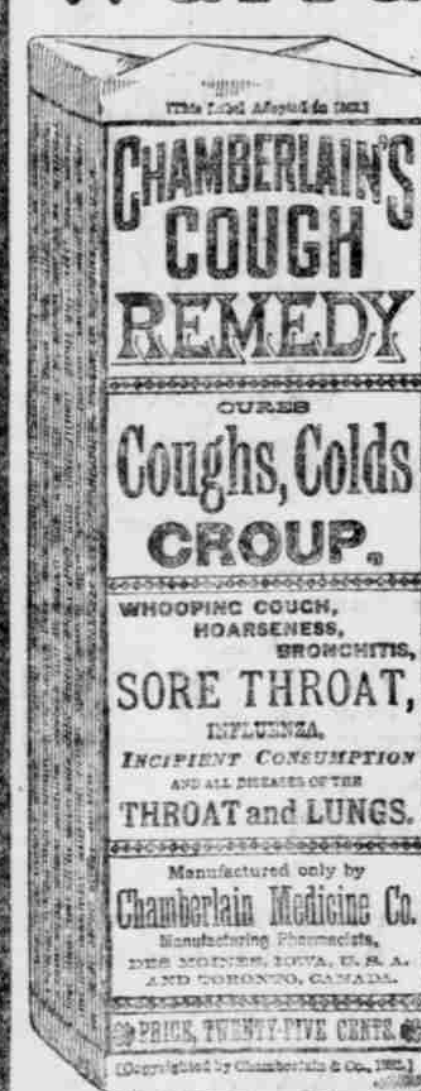

In this room was also the chair made out of the chestnut tree under which the "village smithy" stood, and presented to Longfellow by the Cambridge school children. It has a wreath of chestnut leaves carved on the back. On the mantelpiece was a small anvil made of the same wood. The study remains today as it was when the poet lived and wrote. The chestnut tree was cut down in 1878, because it was considered unsafe.

After the death of Longfellow, in 1882, his brother Samuel came to live in the Craighouse, and devoted himself to writing the life of the poet, whose daughter, Miss Alice Longfellow, now occupies the house.—From Francis Le Baron's "The Washington-Craighouse" in the February Century.

Every Bottle Warranted

Every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is guaranteed, and the dealer from whom it is purchased will refund the money to anyone who is not satisfied after using it.

The many remarkable cures of colds and grip effected by this preparation have made it famous over a large part of the civilized world. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. It not only cures colds and grip, but counteracts any tendency towards pneumonia.

This remedy is also a certain cure for croup, and has never been known to fail. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack.

Whooping cough is not dangerous when the cough is kept loose and expectoration free by the use of this remedy.

It contains no opium or other harmful substance, and it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult.
